God's Covenant With Noah - Then God blessed Noah and his sons, saying to them, 14 Whenever I bring clouds over the earth and the rainbow appears in the sky. Perhaps you've heard the story of Noah and the flood, from Hebrew scripture, or the Bible. And it turned out that God found one good, kind, clean-living family, the family of a man named Noah. I imagine Noah had a hard time believing his ears, but he gathered up his family and told them. Then God said to Noah, "Yes, this rainbow is the sign of the covenant I am confirming with all the creatures on earth." English Standard Version God said to Noah. When Noah and his family came out of the ark, the first thing they did was make a gift of thanks to God. Then God gave them a rainbow as a gift and a promise. Genesis (NIV) "Whenever the rainbow appears in the clouds, I will see it and from that day forward, every time it rains, Noah and his family could be sure of my promise."—The Bible in Genesis 9 records God's promise to Noah that the rainbow has been used as a sign of a new era and a symbol of hope. In Abrahamic religions, Noah was the tenth and last of the pre-Flood Patriarchs. The story of a rainbow, called "my bow", was given as the sign of a covenant "between me and you and every living creature that [is] with you, for perpetual." God promised Noah to never destroy the earth with water again. He gave us the rainbow as a reminder of his promise. We should keep our hearts close to Noah and the Rainbow of Hope. As God looked down upon the beautiful world He had made, it grieved Him to see how it was spoiled by the wickedness of the people. Noah and his family had just come through an unimaginably frightening experience. Perhaps they had never even seen a storm, and certainly no one had ever. Note: With respect to the story line in the biblical account of Noah - Genesis 17 does not indicate that rainbows were created just then, but that when people saw them. The rainbow no doubt existed before the Flood, but with Noah the rainbow took on a new significance as the token of the covenant. JST Gen. -25 enlarges. Bible verses about Noah Rainbow. By faith Noah, being warned by God concerning events as yet unseen, in reverent fear constructed an ark for the saving of his household. God made this covenant, with the rainbow as the token, after the waters of the flood receded and Noah and his family exited the ark. God said, "I establish my covenant with you and your offspring after you, and with every living creature that is with you. I will put my bow in the clouds, and the rainbow will appear in the clouds; and I will be a sign of the covenant between me and you and every living creature that is with you. I will put my bow in the clouds, and the rainbow will appear in the clouds; and I will be a sign of the covenant between me and you and every living creature that is with you." Noah and the Rainbow, by Marc Chagall. Surrealism. religious painting. If a disaster should fall on us, it will not be a flood this time. At least if we believe Noah and his ark built by order of Yahveh-God. That is what the Lord has done. I have set my rainbow in the clouds, and it will be the sign of the covenant between me and you and every living creature that is with you. He placed a rainbow in the sky and he said to Noah, "I have set my rainbow in the sky. Whenever the rainbow appears in the clouds, I will see it, and I will remember the covenant between me and you and every living creature that is with you. Noah was "pure in his generation" (Gen. 6:9); he feared that believing in the Flood would cause it to come. The portion opens with the verse, "These are the names of the sons of Noah who were born to him after the flood." The story of Noah's Ark is one of the best-known in the Old Testament. A rainbow is a bent or curved line in the sky composed or consisting of the colors of the spectrum. And God said to Noah, "This is the sign of the covenant which I have made with you and your offspring after you, and with every living creature that is with you. I will put my bow in the clouds, and the rainbow will appear in the clouds; and I will be a sign of the covenant between me and you and every living creature that is with you. I will put my bow in the clouds, and the rainbow will appear in the clouds; and I will be a sign of the covenant between me and you and every living creature that is with you." Do you write lists or notes to remind yourself to do things? The story of Noah is amazing! It includes a family, all the animals of the earth, a huge boat, a flood and why we have rainbows. It all starts with Noah. Did you know? "I have set my rainbow in the clouds, and it will be the sign of the covenant between me and the earth." Genesis NIV Have the children repeat this verse.
